Learning Buddies and Assistive Technology

Bluebee Pals are educational buddies that help children learn:

- Reading comprehension
- Literacy
- Listening skills

- Articulation
- Social skills

Special Education specialists say that Bluebee pals are crucially important as assistive technology, opening the door to communication for many special needs children, especially children diagnosed with autism. Testimonials from parents and educators share stories about nonverbal children who were previously unresponsive in therapies are talking and interacting with their Bluebee Pals.
